Dear Students:

UCSB Career Services is committed to ensuring student success, regardless of citizenship or immigration status.

We recognize the additional stress our undocumented students are feeling as they attempt to gain internship experience, obtain post-graduation employment, and apply for graduate study. We support UC President Janet Napolitano, along with other California institutional leaders in urging President Donald Trump to continue to offer the DACA program. Undocumented Gauchos deserve the right to follow their dreams.

In Fall Quarter 2016, we released the Undocumented Students Career Guide in collaboration with Undocumented Student Services available in the Career Resource Room (Building 599) or online at www.career.sa.ucsb.edu. This guide is specifically tailored toward the career path and experience of undocumented students and will continue to be updated with current legislature. During Spring Quarter 2017, Career Services will offer a multi-week professional development workshop series supporting undocumented students with leadership skill development, stress management techniques, industry career paths, and the graduate school application process. Maddie Foster, Career Counselor, will continue to show support as an active member of the Dream Scholar Resource Team and the undocumented student liaison. To make an appointment with her, please call (805) 893-4412.
